 This scene, and the preceding, two pages back were developed by John R. Smith from old plates of Irving Rosenthal.

There were two busy photographers at Provincetown, taking pictures of old landmarks, buildings and other interesting views. They were William M. Smith and Irving Rosenthal. 1890

The barges were plentiful on the streets of Provincetown. There were Lillie, Brooks, Myrtle, Knowles, Daisy, Welsh, Puritan, Young and the new Rufus which was built by Mr. Ellis and driven by the owner, Mr. Campbell. There was also the Deacon and his carriage and Mr. Mayo, both well-known to the general public, always ready to meet the traveling wants of the visitors as well as the townspeople. 1890

Just above Court Street. - 1890 - Si Young is driver of the barge.
