A 6824 Pilgrim House, Provincetown, Mass.

1905

THIS CENTURY-OLD HOTEL had an air of leisure in 1903 (top photo). People could sit on its porch and not be "loiterers." The front yard had a green lawn, shell-covered carriage drive, a plank walk. Below, today's Pilgrims see an almost unchanged house, but they park on the lawn. In host Frank Potter's day, the hotel had no bar.
