

- April 22, 1948 -

What was known for years as the Hook & Ladder house near Town Hall is now Pumper No. 3 house and with the firemen-members of this company busy painting the interior and with the new heating unit, it will be the smartest of all the fire houses. The ancient and always amusing relic which was housed in the building and which always had to be thoroughly wound up before it would start to a fire, has been moved to the Johnson Street, No. 3 house where it stands alongside a powerful, modern pumper. This Mack Sennet hook and ladder, which had a quaint habit of riding with its front wheels off the ground if too many got on the tail-piece, should be preserved with other fine relics of long ago fire-fighting days.

From the Town Crier ...
Gift Shop facing West.
Gosnold Street, Adams
Drug Store on corner.
Corner Gift Shop on the other corner (belonging to Rosenthal)

Universalist Church.

September 1945

Commercial Street North from Post Office,
Provincetown, Mass.

- August 1907 -

The Three Towers ...
The Monument
Pilgrim Church
Town Hall

September - 1947