- December 1939 -

Here we are at the Joshua Atkins-Mayo Road, opposite Kendall Lane. I know you'll want to see where it leads, and here is Althea to lead the way.

FROM Sea to Sea*

After we pass one or two houses, this sign is tacked onto one of the pines. Joshua is my great, great, great grandfather and the house, we think, must have been at, or in the vicinity of, this sign.

- August 1940 -

See where we started from? There's Darrow Adams' home, the first left, on the corner of Kendall Lane; the next house, facing Commercial Street is Myrick Young's, (the next white one, that is.)
