

----- See! Remember Snail Road, just a little way beyond the intersection and opposite the east end breakwater? We passed it on our way into town and Mopsy begged us then to do some exploring with her, only this time I think there is a more pleading look in her eyes, don't you?

Let's go, shall we?

And here is Althea and Mopsy, ready once ----- more to be your hostesses.

This view is facing the east end breakwater, and just before the railroad track

Snail Road - 1938