

REEVES EULER, right, came to Provincetown many years ago to study painting under the late Charles W. Hawthorne, whose Cape school was internationally famous. In the picture above Mr. Euler is shown at work on a portrait of a Provincetown model.

— Smith, Paul

"Modern Pilgrim's Print Book"

Provincetown Studio by E. R. Euler

In this unusual block Mr. Euler, whose sensitive studies in still life are highly admired, pokes sly fun at the popular conception of studio life.

