

Everyone dresses for a party

Advocate photos by Jim Gilbert

David Schoolman sure knows how to throw a party. He had no trouble getting at least 600 persons to his Lands End Inn for his fifth annual open lawn party. It has become a party for dressing up, as you can see above. David just invites everyone he meets, but a lot of people come without invitations because he said they are more than welcome.