

KEY NOTES
OF
TALKS GIVEN BY MR. JACOBS
AT
THE SUMMER SCHOOL OF ART,
PROVINCETOWN, MASS.,
SUMMER OF 1907.

---

- July 6. Only the fundamental counts . . . . . Millet
- July 13. Art is nature seen through a temperament . . . . . Zola
- July 20. Our whole life is taxed for the least thing well done, Thoreau
- July 27. I see that all in some work of art
Is toil co-operant to an end, Browning
- Aug. 3. Art unites all, how much more then true artists,
From Beethoven's letter to Cherubini
- Aug. 10. The splendor of the true . . . . . Plato
The joy of Art.
- Aug. 17. Taste cannot be moulded upon what is second rate,
Its standard must be the highest . . . . . Goethe
- Aug. 24. Come forth! Let Nature be your teacher . Wordsworth
The Barbizon painters.
- Aug. 31. The higher vision poisons all meaner choice forevermore,
George Eliot
- Sept. 7. When the search for truth begins, life begins . Ruskin
The Art of the Engraver.