Foreword

The seventh year of the Provincetown Art Association, the fortunate year, is bringing good luck in full measure. The small group of artists who met in 1915 are seeing the fruition of their plans to found an organization with sufficient of red blood to establish itself permanently in the life of the town.

The old Colonial house stood waiting and the artists and other citizens have made of it a Museum building, which for all time will stand for the spirit of Art which now abides in this historic place.

The incorporation of the Provincetown Art Association is another happy result, enabling the association to expand financially and to receive legacies. The Board of Trustees consists of nine citizens and three artists serving in groups of four, for three, two and one years respectively, with the Hon. Vice Presidents, and the Director as advisory Art Committee.

The Exhibition of members' work will be held annually and the galleries will be available at other times for exhibitions of special interest.

A series of Art Lectures is being arranged for August evenings and the social side will not be forgotten, with such a good dancing floor. In short the Museum will stand as an Art Center for which the need has long been recognized.

In the future extension of the Museum an Art Library is planned and permanent collections of works of art, Colonial antiques, and the historic relics of the Pilgrim period.

So many artists have come to Provincetown and remained, that the permanent art collection should show examples of their work, by means of which both national and international reputations have been established, thereby assuring to Provincetown and its Museum an enviable prestige in the world of Art.

The International Studio

FOR TWENTY-FOUR YEARS THE STANDARD ART MAGAZINE IN THE ENGLISH LANGUAGE AND STILL KNOWN AS THE

"most beautiful magazine printed"

Paintings, sculpture, architecture, etchings, drawings, sketches, engravings, interior decorations, house plans, furniture, textiles, rugs, tapestries, landscape architecture, photography, ceramics, and the other handicrafts — all these, and more, are among the forms of art treated in the pages of this magazine.

The inclusion of all these departments, together with the fact that the field of the "Studio" is truly international, covering the art progress of the entire civilized world, gives a scope to this magazine which is unequaled by that of any other publication on the subject of art.

So, also, are the illustrations unequaled in quantity and quality by those of any other periodical. They consist of the finest reproductions in half-tone, tint and full color of works of art of every description.
