Stuard Derrick is returning for his second season with the Provincetown Theatre Company. Last year he was seen as both Theseus and Oberon in A Midsummer Night's Dream and as Mendy in The Lisbon Traviata. Educated at Columbia University and the American Academy of Dramatic Arts, his New York stage credits include leading roles in Richard III, A Doll's House, and Candida. He made his television debut in the PBS American Playhouse production of "Andre's Mother" and portrayed a criminal lawyer this winter in an episode of the new NBC series "Law and Order". Stuard divides his time between Provincetown and New York City, where in addition to acting he is a commercial print model.

Anthony Jackman has worked with the P.T.C. since 1985. He has acted in P.T.C. productions of A Funny Thing Happened on the Way to the Forum as Eronius, in Joe Orton's What the Butler Saw as Nick, in Noises Off as Selsdon, and in Norman Allen's Larry Queen of Scots as Larry. "Tony" has also appeared as St. Michael in the Writer's Workshop staged reading of Norman Allen's Jenny St. Joan. He is founder and producer of the annual "Close to Home" benefit for the Provincetown A.I.D.S. Support Group, which is now in its sixth year. Beirut was his first time out as a director for the P.T.C. He will next direct The Lion in Winter this fall for P.T.C.

Welcome to Provincetown Theatre Company's production of BEIRUT, a play by Alan Bowne. Please note the following:

1. THERE IS NO SMOKING ALLOWED IN THE THEATRE. FIRE EXITS ARE LOCATED ON YOUR IMMEDIATE LEFT AND FAR RIGHT.
2. We are now taking reservations for our production of Edward Gorey's FLAPPING ANKLES which is being presented on Thursday, Friday, Saturday, and Sunday evenings.
3. As a Community Theatre, we rely on your support. Our actors receive no pay for their efforts in your behalf. Anything that you can leave for them in the ACTORS' BOX (even $.50) would be greatly appreciated.
