FAMOUS WOMEN AT THE PROVINCETOWN INN

The Provincetown Theatre Company presents Arthur Kopit's "Chamber Music", directed by Grant King.

Arthur Kopit is one of New York's foremost young dramatists, author of "Oh Dad, Poor Dad, Mama's Hung you in the Closet and I'm Feelin' So Sad", "Sing To Me Through Windows", and "Indians". "Chamber Music" is a compelling and comic drama about eight women in an insane asylum, who all think they're someone famous.

There are portrayals of Joan of Arc, Gertrude Stein, Osa Johnson, Pearl White, Queen Isabella of Spain, Mozart's wife, Susan B. Anthony, and Amelia Earhart.

The cast of eight women and two men include; Jane Astion, Braid Cochrane, Geraldine Corrado, Jeffrey Kresser, Ardis Markarian, Kate Rushin, Tita Rutledge, Fern Schlang, Laurie Swift, and Mary Taylor; some of whom many will remember fondly in productions of "Cabaret", "Bus Stop", "Promenade", "Hot L Baltimore", and many other successes of the past.

"Chamber Music's" director, Grant King, in his first year of the Theatre Company, has proven he's someone to watch.

As a special added attraction, King will present the mini masterpieces by Harold Pinter, "The Black and White" and "Trouble in the Works".

Performances will run Thursday March 23, through Sunday March 26, and Thursday March 30, through Sunday April 2, in the Mayflower Room of the Provincetown Inn & Executive Conference Center. Curtain at 8:00 PM, tickets $3.50, sr. citizens $1.75. For reservations call 487-3209, or evenings at 487-3996.
