Not being an artist, I think of places in terms of people. Provincetown, to me means the lovely people who make the town their home. I can mention so many. Let's take Jack Greene. Jack is known all over America for his stories. He is known in P'town for his uncompromising intellect. Walking down Commercial street, seeing the approaching fuzzy head, always meant a battle. Not a fight mind you, but a real battle in which more often than not, I suffered defeat. Jack was always splitting atoms, while the best I can do is to split a lousy infinitive. Jack has done much for this town,—his presence, his direction of high school plays, his mind, everything we judge men by, is his contribution to what we like to think of as this mecca of the arts.

Dear George:-

I'm afraid I can't contribute very much. I don't remember any of the other acts in the show, and I don't rem^ember ever seeing the program. I was not a soloist. "You're the Cream in My Coffee" was a duet with Catharine Santos. We'd sung it in "The Man Who Owns Broadway", a show put on by the Catholic Church the winter before.

Like you, I am amazed at the outpouring of generosity by all elements of the town. You're right about it not happening today. I think the explanation is that ~~we must keep in mind that~~ it was long before the Welfare State. There were no government entitlements then. We had the Poor House, the churches, and a few fraternal organizations. And, above all, our ~~relig-~~neighbors. We helped each other because we never knew when we would need help ourselves.

There must have been some one person who put it all together. I don't know who it was. I can't even remember who asked me to be in it.

I'm sorry I can't be of more help. Thanks for the program, and Izabel thanks you for The Long Pointer piece. Best wishes for the holidays.

Ray
